Coronet Brougham 4-door sedan

Coronet. A great family car because Dodge planned it that way.

The Coronet is comfortable, tucks in a family with ease, and doesn't sacrifice style. The reason for that is simple: It was designed to be a four-door sedan and nothing else. You and your five passengers get all the hiproom, headroom, and legroom you need. Door openings are large for easy ins and outs. And Coronet's trunk has plenty of room for a family's gear. A family car should also be economical to operate. Coronet sedans are available with a choice of gas-saving standard engines—the 225 CID Slant Six and the 318 CID V8. And for even greater fuel savings, consider the "no cost" optional 2.45 rear axle. There are two Coronet sedans for 1976. Both surround you with the quiet of a deluxe sound package and decorative touches such as a deluxe steering wheel and full body mouldings. The Coronet Brougham (above) also gives you added comforts such as a velour and vinyl front seat with center armrest, shag carpeting, deluxe wheel covers, and a wide color-keyed body side protection moulding. A wide range of options includes the tilt steering column that adjusts to your driving comfort. Plus the Dodge value features people want: solid Unibody construction, stable torsion-bar suspension, money-saving Electronic Ignition. All this in a mid-sized car that makes parking and garaging a breeze. Your choice of two models: Coronet Brougham and Coronet. Great family cars from Dodge. See for yourself.

1. Distinctive hood ornament for Coronet Brougham.
2. Coronet's ample, family-sized trunk space—19.4 cu. ft.
3. Optional six-position tilt steering column.
4. Clean, uncluttered styling marks Coronet sedans.

Coronet Crestwood wagon

Coronet wagon. The only mid-sized wagon with full-sized room.

Nobody expects a mid-sized wagon to be able to carry a four-by-eight-foot sheet of plywood laid flat, but Coronet can—even with the doorgate closed. And that's the way it should be, because basically a wagon's a hauler. But with all its space, Coronet is easy to handle. Coronet's standard automatic transmission, power front disc brakes, and front sway bar help account for that. These wagons indulge you with luxury and convenience, too. A three-way doorgate opens flat, or to the side, with the window up or down. Handy side storage compartments stow away the little things that can clutter up the cargo floor. An optional rear-window defroster keeps the door-gate window free of ice and condensation. And a new optional sound insulation package makes for quiet driving. Coronet four-door wagons come in two- or three-seat Coronet and Coronet Crestwood models. Coronet wagons for '76 give you full-sized room in a mid-sized package at a reasonable price. Give one the once-over.

1. Optional all-vinyl second seat for Coronet wagon. Front seat has a fold-down center armrest.
2. Three-way doorgate opens flat or to the side with the window up or down.
3. Convenient side storage compartments.
4. Real cargo space for a mid-sized wagon.
5. Optional electrically heated rear window defroster.

Slip into something comfortable.

1. The 60/40 divided front bench seat upholstered in soft, crushed velour, available in blue, green, gold, and red. Plush features include a fold-down center armrest, individually adjustable reclining seats, color-keyed shag carpeting, and matching velour door-panel inserts. Optional luxury for the Brougham.

Also available in all-vinyl in green, parchment, gold, red (sedans), and blue (wagons), on Crestwood wagons and Coronet Broughams.

2. Standard Coronet Brougham interior features Velardo velour and vinyl seats. As an extra elegant touch, the front seat comes with a fold-down center armrest. Colors include blue, red, green, and gold. An all-vinyl version is also standard on Crestwood wagons. Colors include blue, green, gold, and parchment.

3. The standard front bench seat for the Coronet sedan. Upholstered in cloth-and-vinyl with color-matching vinyl door trim. Color-keyed carpeting. Color choices are blue, green, gold, parchment, and red.

4. Optional all-vinyl split-back bench seat for all Coronets (std. Crestwood wagon). Fold-down center armrest, color-keyed door panels and carpeting. Colors include blue, green, red, gold, and parchment.
