TIRES

The factory-installed tires on Oldsmobiles are selected to provide the best all-around tire performance for normal operation. They are also designed to operate satisfactorily with loads up to and including the full rated load capacity of the automobile when inflated as recommended.

Inflation Pressures

To ensure the proper tire inflation for the owner's particular requirements, the owner should follow the recommendations in the tire inflation pressures table in the Owner Operating Manual. Tires should be properly inflated and inflation pressures checked periodically. This will ensure the owner of the best tire life and riding comfort, over the full range of driving conditions.

Optional Oversize and 8-Ply Rating (Heavy-Service) Tires

Oversize or 8-ply rating (Heavy-Service) tires are not necessary on passenger cars for normal requirements. However, an extra margin of tire service is available when these options are used at loads up to and including full rated load.

On all Oldsmobiles except Toronados, Vista-Cruisers and F-85 Station Wagons, optional oversize 4-ply rating tires are available. On Vista-Cruisers and F-85 Station Wagons, since space limitations do not permit the use of an oversize tire, 8-ply rating (Heavy-Service) tires are available.

In either case, these tires are applicable to extended operation at or near full rated load or for trailer towing when an extra margin of tire service is desired. However, use of an oversize tire or an 8-ply rating (Heavy-Service) tire should not be construed as permitting an increase in the full rated vehicle load.
