Introducing the 1976 Concours.

A luxurious Chevy compact with a plain Chevy price.

Concours. A practical approach to compact luxury. Who'd have thought six cylinders and six seats could look this good? We worked long and hard to make the lines right, and then embellished them just enough with the appropriate chrome and bright-metal accents. Including that distinctive upright hood ornament.

But the Concours styling story needn't end there. Feel free to order from a long list of appearance options, such as the Cabriolet padded vinyl top shown on the preceding page. It's available on '76 Concours and Nova coupe models except hatchbacks.

Now get in and see what the standard Concours interior does for you. The deep-cushion comfort. The plush trim. The rosewood vinyl accents that highlight the upper door panels, instrument panel and steering wheel. Notice, too, that the steering wheel and steering column are color-coordinated. Those fully carpeted lower door panels have handy map pockets in them. And Concours is the first Chevy compact to provide a fold-down front center armrest. Check for a cigarette lighter, glovebox light and other amenities. They're all there.

If that isn't enough, you can always order a '76 Concours interior more custom-fitted to your taste. Available options include high-pile deluxe carpeting, AM, AM/FM and stereo radio equipment, and the individual wide-back front seats shown at the bottom.

Now you might want to flip back to the options section of this catalog for a detailed look at what's available. That is, if you can look at the picture below of the standard Concours interior and say that anything's missing. Maybe all that's missing is you.

'76 Concours. The new Chevy compact as desirable as it is affordable. Which, nowadays, is saying a lot.

1976 Nova. Dedicated to the three million Novas before it.

The latest edition of Chevy's basic compact has a lot to live up to. Over the years, a lot of people have supported what we call the Nova fundamentals. So we'd be foolish to change them.

That's why the 1976 Nova, like all Novas before it, is sensibly sized and sensibly priced. That's also why we've kept it easy to drive, easy to park and easy to get into. And why we've built it as solidly as we can.

The successful Nova formula also dictates an efficient six-cylinder engine: our 1976 version is just that.

Naturally, we've made minor changes each year—without straying from the Nova basics. For example, this year we managed to refine the brakes, the fuel and exhaust system mountings a little.

Inside the car, we added bright new colors and trim materials to please the eye and the touch. And we made numerous minor adjustments (things like new instrument panel knobs). Definitely not earth-shaking modifications, but typical of Nova attention to quality.

All things considered, the basic '76 Nova is a very complete car. It even offers a long list of available options, such as our Nova SS package, illustrated on the preceding page. Or our available Custom Interior, illustrated at the bottom. There's also a full selection of radios, stereo equipment and tape players. A full complement of power options, such as power door locks and power windows. Plus styling and interior embellishments you can specify at will. Sample them all in the Nova option descriptions at the back of this catalog.

Then order Nova No. 3,000,000-and-something—at your Chevy dealer's. It's the 1976 version of the compact that's looking better all the time.

What you get.

Every '76 Concours and Nova includes a host of standard equipment. We've listed much of it here.

To help you save money.

- Chevrolet Efficiency System. A group of engineering improvements, introduced with 1975 Novas, are designed to give you cleaner air, overall operating economy, quicker starts, faster warm-ups, fewer and simpler recommended tune-ups, and more miles between oil changes and chassis lubs. The Efficiency System includes High Energy Ignition—up to 85% hotter spark to the plugs than with conventional breaker points and condenser system, which means responsive ignition performance; Catalytic Converter—takes over most of the emissions control so engines can be tuned for smooth, responsive, efficient performance; Carburetor Outside Air Induction—responsive engine performance because cooler, denser air is fed into the carburetor from outside the car rather than from under the hood; Early Fuel Evaporation—improves performance by using exhaust gases to
