Our Commitment...

Our commitment to you is to design, engineer and build a car with quality. To give you honest value at an honest price. That is our goal. It's a no-nonsense commitment that can make a lot of sense when you buy your next car.

We try to give our buyers a car that gets them where they want to go in all types of weather and in all kinds of traffic.

People expect value when they invest in a new car — and that's what we expect to deliver.

Six wagon ways to go.

One of the nicest things about selecting a '72 Plymouth wagon is the choice. Three big Furies. Three mid-size Satellites. With a choice of 2- or 3-seat models in each line.

Each one is chock full of features. Each one can hold 4' x 8' sheets of plywood flat on the floor with the tailgate closed. Each, a prime example of Chrysler craftsmanship at work.

New styling . . . new features . . . dependable ride.

New styling, inside and out, highlights the Fury line for '72. And, the smooth, solid comfort of Torsion-Quiet Ride is standard. That means you get a wagon that looks good, rides quietly.

Unibody construction with thousands of welds helps eliminate rattles and squeaks. A suspension system, which includes front torsion bars and rear leaf springs, cushions you from bounces and swaying. And the entire suspension system is separated from the body of the wagon by a series of strategically placed rubber sound isolators. The result is quiet and controlled Torsion-Quiet Ride.

Features include a standard power-operated tailgate glass window on all Fury models. An Auto-Lock tailgate is standard on all three-seat models; optional for two-seat models.

Auto-Lock System

Our three-way tailgate with Auto-Lock—opens as a door with the glass up or with the glass down as well as folding down—locks automatically every time the ignition is turned on. Providing additional safety for children riding in the back. For additional dress-up, you can order your Fury with an optional vinyl roof in either tan or black. And the standard air deflector (optional on Satellite) helps keep the rear window clean. If you order Fury's optional vinyl roof, the air deflector will be color-keyed and textured to match the vinyl roof.

And Fury wagons now have soft vinyl perforated headlining. Looks nifty and helps dampen sound.

Fighting the good fight.

Chrysler Corporation long has been a leader in fighting dirty air. Our first emissions control system work dates back to the mid 1950's.

Our 1972 Cleaner Air System has evolved out of this earlier work. It is a combination of many elements including vehicle and engine components, engine modifications and other systems. The basic function is to control emissions while maintaining good performance and economy. A new element added this year is a charcoal canister designed to trap fuel vapors from the fuel tank and carburetor bowl.

Cleaner Air System

Another way we have to fight pollution is by keeping our highways free of litter. So for '72 a special, reusable litter bag with a two-quart capacity, is attached to the glove box door on all our models. It's a handy place to stow litter while you're on the go.

Reusable Litter Bag

Coming through with the kind of car America wants.

Chrysler Corporation strives to do its best for the consumer. Our commitment is to try to build cars to last. Cars that meet all of the safety requirements. Cars with improved pollution controls. "More for your money" cars.

This is what America wants. This is what we offer.

Fury Wagons

Big on looks. Big on loads. That's the '72 Fury wagons coming through for you. For load space, you've got 104 cubic feet of room for picnic baskets, gardening supplies, what-have-you. For a solid, quiet ride, you've got Torsion-Quiet Ride—the ultimate in driving comfort. With the Sport Suburban a simulated wood-grain body side treatment comes standard. All Fury wagons now feature a three-way tailgate with hardtop glass. You can use the tailgate as a door without lowering the glass. And even our low-priced Suburban features a standard roof air deflector. An item that's usually optional on competitive cars. For extra glamour, order an optional vinyl roof. Available for the first time . . . in our Fury wagons.

1972 Plymouth PRODUCT CHANGES

Certain product changes have been made in our 1972 Plymouths that affect the information contained in our literature. Listed below are the latest revisions. Be sure to use them when reviewing our literature and when selecting your new Plymouth car. A good idea: consult with your Plymouth dealer. He'll come through for you with the complete, up-to-date story on product and pricing.

Fury

- The Electronic Ignition System, which eliminates the breaker points and condenser, is optional on V-8 engines in all Fury models.

Duster/Valiant/Barracuda

- The 318 cu. in. V-8 engine now is standard on all 'Cuda models.
- The 340 cu. in. V-8 is available as an option.
- The Electronic Ignition System, which eliminates the breaker points and condenser, now is available as an option with V-8 engines on Duster, Duster 340, Valiant, Barracuda and 'Cuda models. It lasts longer than the conventional type of ignition system, and it helps keep the engine in tune longer.

Satellite

- Deluxe Wheel Covers are now standard equipment on Satellite Sebring-Plus.
- The Electronic Ignition System is now optional with the Road Runner 400 4-bbl. engine, and with the 318 & 400 2-bbl. cu. in. engine on other Satellite models.

Wagons

- The Auto-Lock Tailgate now is available as an option on all Fury wagons. This option provides additional protection for persons riding in the back by locking the tailgate automatically when the ignition is turned on.
- Full Cargo Compartment Carpeting now is available as an option on all 1972 Plymouth wagons.
- Deluxe Wheel Covers are now standard equipment on Satellite Regent wagons.
- Electronic Ignition System is now available.
